

Lyme Disease Pandemic

Saturday, June 22, 2019

Sheridan College (Brampton) TBA

Presented by Anne Hartley

Course Description

This is a one-day, evidence-based lecture on the approaching pandemic of Lyme disease. It will include the signs and symptoms and treatment for both acute and chronic Lyme disease. The lecture will discuss the ticks that carry the disease and how to prevent being bitten by them. The spread of the tick population in Canada and the world will be reviewed. The lecture will describe how to deal with patients who were bitten recently and those that were bitten in the past. The symptoms of chronic Lyme disease mimic other conditions that we see as a therapist including; joint swelling, neural conditions, carditis, bell's palsy, muscle pain and more. Case studies, from my clinical practice will be discussed.
